Before-Need Planning

Dealing with the death of a loved one is one of the most difficult aspects of life. Leaving final arrangements until the moment of need creates an unnecessary burden for those who are grieving a lost loved one. Most families are not prepared to make financial and practical decisions when faced with such a loss. That is why we at Inglewood Park Cemetery encourage you to make these arrangements in advance—a decision that will give you peace of mind and relieve your family of having to make difficult choices in an already trying time.

- For a loved one—Making cemetery arrangements in advance helps you avoid the attention to detail demanded at the time of death. Pre-planning allows you to spend that time sharing memories with others, to grieve naturally and to approach emotional healing freely.
- For yourself—Before-Need planning makes sense. Your Inglewood Park Cemetery Memorial Counselor will show you a variety of interment choices and locations from which to choose. Making your selections in advance will allow you to feel comfortable knowing your family will not have to guess at your preferences at a time when they are likely to be emotionally distraught. And they will appreciate your foresight.

Financial Advantages

Before-need planning enables you to pay for cemetery space and services at today's prices—in today's dollars— even if the actual death occurs decades later.
